

Risk Modeling in the AWS Cloud for the Insurance Industry

We help insurance companies rapidly deploy risk modeling solutions in the AWS cloud. Our expertise ranges from implementing various actuarial software in the cloud to deploying insurance-specific applications. We will guide you through all phases – from preparation and operational readiness to go-live and hypercare. In addition to technical expertise, we value effective communication, transparent process optimization, and regulatory compliance.

Our services

Increasing regulatory requirements for risk management are driving the need for efficient processing of large volumes of data. After a thorough pre- and post-calculation process analysis, our cloud solution enables actuaries to experience significant acceleration and fast access to massive data storage and tailored computing capacities. The cloud makes it possible to reliably allocate resources and run complex simulations, in particular for final accounting. We integrate key roles from the company to ensure the success of your projects. We act as an intermediary between the specialist department, IT and regulatory authorities, enabling informed decisions to be made. Our proven methods are the basis for fast and efficient results.

Your benefits

The specialist departments can effectively formulate requirements, ideas and wishes. We optimize the process speed holistically – from technical implementation to upstream and downstream steps. With the highest AWS partner level, we can apply for funding from AWS for your workloads and PoCs, providing you with support and budget savings throughout the year. This is how we ensure not only technical expertise but also a customized and fast implementation.
